To Whom It May Concern

Subject: Letter of Recommendation for Roman Mekonnen Kasa

Dear Sir/Madam,

It is a true pleasure to write this letter of recommendation for Roman, who was my student at Bahir Dar University's School of Law. I serve at Bahir Dar University School of Law in various capacities, including Lecturer, Researcher, Department Head, and Vice Dean. Given my experience, I hope my views and opinions about the applicant will be beneficial to your institution.

I first came to know her when she was a second-year student at Bahir Dar University School of Law. She is a truly exceptional student who possesses outstanding academic abilities. She consistently demonstrates a passion for learning and a dedication to excellence that is truly inspiring. As her Teacher, I have witnessed her strong work ethic, analytical skills, and problem-solving abilities. It has been an absolute pleasure instructing her, as she is a profoundly assertive, gifted, and diligent young woman. She always thriveled academically, and I witnessed her confidence and intelligence prosper throughout her academic career; her grades and contributions in class only continued to become more remarkable and outstanding. She was one of the highest-scoring students in the Law of Succession course that I offered to her batch.

In addition to her excellent academic achievements, she has been involved in different extracurricular activities and community service. For instance, she is committed to human rights and victims' rights, serving as an advocate in the School's Human Rights Club.

I strongly believe that she would be an outstanding recipient of a place in your institution. She has the potential to make a significant contribution to the success of your institution. Thus, I wholeheartedly recommend her for the post and look forward to her continued success.

Sincerely,

Mekashaw Chane Gashawu (LL.B, LL.M)
